

GarageWorks ("We", "Us", "GarageWorks", or the "Site") is committed to user privacy and disclosure of user (hereinafter referred to as "You", "Your" and "Yourself") information. This Privacy Policy is designed to help you understand how we collect and use information you decide to share with us.

Type of information we collect

We generally collect two types of information: personally submitted information and usage information:

- Personally Submitted Information

When you use GarageWorks, any information you submit is stored in our servers. This information includes, but is not limited to, your name, email address, contact number, vehicle details like make, model, variant, KM reading, registration number and other general information we ask during registration on our platform. This information is stored in order to enable us deliver our services to you.

We will not disclose your personal information, such as contact number and email address, to third parties unless you specifically authorize us to or is required for fulfilment of services purchased, booked or availed by you through the Site. Your privacy is very important to us.

- Usage Information

When you use GarageWorks, we collect information pertaining to your IP address and browser type. This information is gathered from everyone that uses the GarageWorks site and mobile application. We also collect information on page views to help users see which articles are popular.

- Location Data

Location data may be used to display aggregate non-identifying user information such as total users in a given city, state, or zip code. Location data will not be sold to third parties but may be used to display service providers and other services relevant to your location.

How we use information we collect

We store and interpret private information you submit only to the extent necessary to provide you with the services you want. We do not release information about any individual, including but not limited to their name, email address, and contact number.

We may use aggregate, or collective, information in expansion of services or research. This information will not be tied to any individual name and will only be used to interpret certain trends, preferences of users registered.

Cookies

We employ the use of cookies, small packets of information stored on your computer, in order to enhance your use of the site.

User Controlled Privacy

At GarageWorks, we respect user privacy, but also understand that users may want to share information with others and see what information others want to share. We give users the right to select how much of their profile is viewed by levels of users, such as registered users, garages, and the general public.

Please use caution if electing to post private information to the public. This information would be available to anyone looking for it.

Third Party Links

GarageWorks may contain links to third party sites. These sites are not governed by this Privacy Policy or the Terms of Use. Please review each external site's terms of use and privacy policy prior to usage. These third party websites are not under the control of GarageWorks and therefore GarageWorks is not responsible for the content, applications, and terms of service made available from those websites.

Third Party Services

We may use the services of third parties. Information gathered by these third parties will fall under their privacy policies.

Advertisements

We may use third parties to serve advertisements when you visit our Site. These parties may use information about your visits to this and other websites in order to provide advertisements about goods and services of interest to you. They do not have access to account information which you have provided to GarageWorks nor will we share this information with any third party advertiser. To opt out of any data collection or other feature of a third party advertising, please contact the respective advertiser.
